

Getting Started with RefWorks

What is RefWorks?

RefWorks enables you to keep a web-based list of all the books, journal articles, web pages and other resources you consult for a project...

<input type="checkbox"/> Ref ID: 316	Book, Whole Reference 1 of 58
Book Title:	Julia Kristeva and Literary Theory (Transitions)
Authors:	Becker-Leckrone, Megan
Source:	2005, Palgrave Macmillan
<input type="checkbox"/> Ref ID: 17	Journal Reference 2 of 58
Title:	Enhancing library instruction with peer planning
Authors:	Finley, Priscilla ; Skarl, Susie ; Cox, Jennifer ; VanderPol, Diane
Source:	Reference Services Review , 2005, 33, 1, 112-122

...and then the software can take care of formatting your citations and bibliography in any style - APA, MLA, Chicago, or many others.

RefWorks' Write-n-Cite feature automatically formats in-text citations (Finley et al. 112-122) and creates the bibliography right in your word processor!

To make this happen, you need to create your personal RefWorks account and give it basic information about the sources you use. You do this by importing citations from the library catalog or a journal article database.

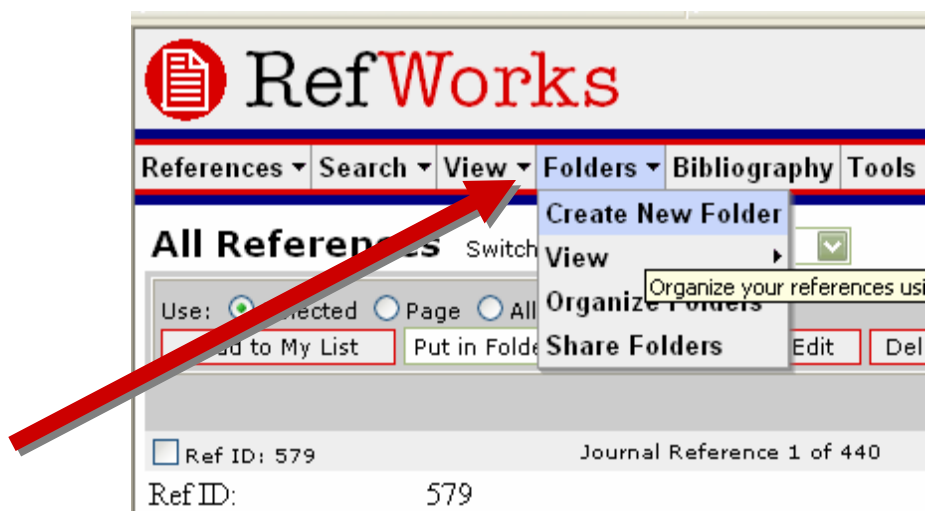

How do I access it?

Connect through the Library's database page
<http://www.library.unlv.edu/search/eralpha.php>
Click on R in the alphabetical list to locate RefWorks.

Getting Started with RefWorks

How do I use RefWorks?

1. Create an account
 - a. Click on the blue link Sign up for an Individual Account
 - b. Or, go to this link <https://refworks.com/Refworks/newuser.asp>
 - c. Complete the form
2. Create a folder in RefWorks for your research
 - a. Roll your cursor over the Folders menu at the top of the page
 - b. Select Create New Folder
 - c. Type in the name of research project
 - d. Click OK

3. Export journal article citations from databases
 - a. Many databases allow "direct export" – that is, they will connect to RefWorks, ask you to log in, and add selected citations to your account.
 - b. Databases that do not allow "direct export" will let you save your citations in a text file in RefWorks format. Then you log in to your RefWorks account and import the data from the text file.
 - c. See the chart at the end of the document to discover which method works for the database you are using
 - i. Note* it is NOT a complete list, it is a sampling of the databases that are used by library patrons
 - d. Begin by accessing the databases through the Library's database page <http://www.library.unlv.edu/search/eralpha.php>
 - i. Note* use the group code when accessing outside the library
Enter your barcode and name at this site to get the code
<http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html#coverage>
 - e. Follow the importation methods from the Instructions - Guide to Exporting Citations <http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html>
 - i. See the import article references walk-through (demonstration) at <http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html>
4. Import book citations from the library catalog
 - a. Roll your cursor over the Search menu at the top of the page
 - b. Click on Online Catalog or Database
 - c. Use the drop-down menu to select the appropriate catalog
 - d. Type in your search terms and click the search button

Getting Started with RefWorks

- i. Note make sure your pop-up blockers are turned off, or add RefWorks.com to your trusted sites
- ii. See Also – Instructions - Troubleshooting guide
<http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html>
- e. Select titles by checking the box to the left of the title
- f. Use the drop-down menu at the top of the page to select the project folder
- g. Click the Import button
- h. An asterisk will appear for each citation that is successfully imported
- i. Look in the last imported folder to view the imported citations

5. Manually entering citations

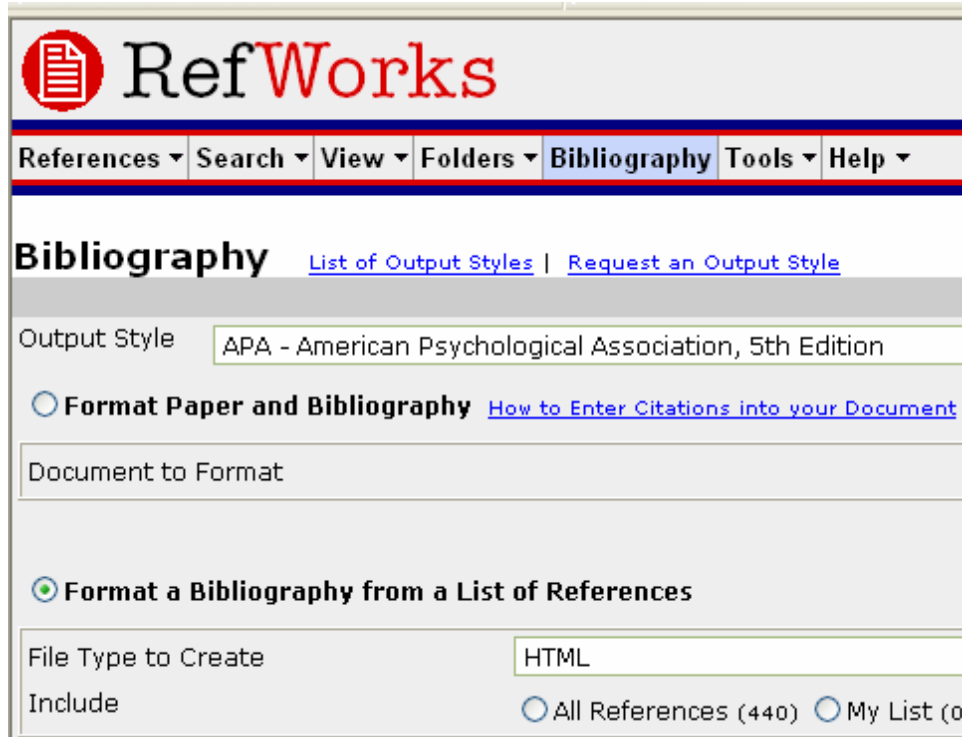

- a. Roll your cursor over the References menu at the top of the page
- b. Click on Add New Reference
- c. Select the style format (APA, MLA, Chicago, etc.) from the "View fields used" by drop-down menu
- d. Enter the appropriate information
 - i. Note the fields used by the style format will have a green check mark (✓) before the field
- e. Click the Save Reference button at the bottom of the screen

Getting Started with RefWorks

6. Create a bibliography

- a. Click on the Bibliography menu at the top of the page in RefWorks
- b. Select the Output Style (APA, Chicago, MLA, etc.) from the drop-down menu
- c. Select the Format a Bibliography from a List of References option
- d. Select the File Type to Create (HTML, Word for Windows, etc.) from the drop-down menu
- e. Select References from and the name of the project folder
- f. Click the Create Bibliography button at the bottom of the page

The screenshot shows the RefWorks interface. At the top is the RefWorks logo. Below it is a navigation bar with menus: References, Search, View, Folders, Bibliography (highlighted), Tools, and Help. The main heading is 'Bibliography' with links for 'List of Output Styles' and 'Request an Output Style'. Under 'Output Style', 'APA - American Psychological Association, 5th Edition' is selected. There are two radio button options: 'Format Paper and Bibliography' (unselected) and 'Format a Bibliography from a List of References' (selected). Below the selected option, there is a 'File Type to Create' dropdown set to 'HTML' and an 'Include' section with two radio buttons: 'All References (440)' (unselected) and 'My List (0)' (unselected).

7. PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER WITH WRITE-N-CITE

- a. Write-N-Cite is a plug-in from RefWorks that allows you to create your parenthetical citations and bibliography while you write your paper.
- b. To install Write-N-Cite to your computer, Roll your cursor over the Tools menu at the top of the page
- c. Click on Write-N-Cite
- d. Select the appropriate link based on your computer system

Getting Started with RefWorks

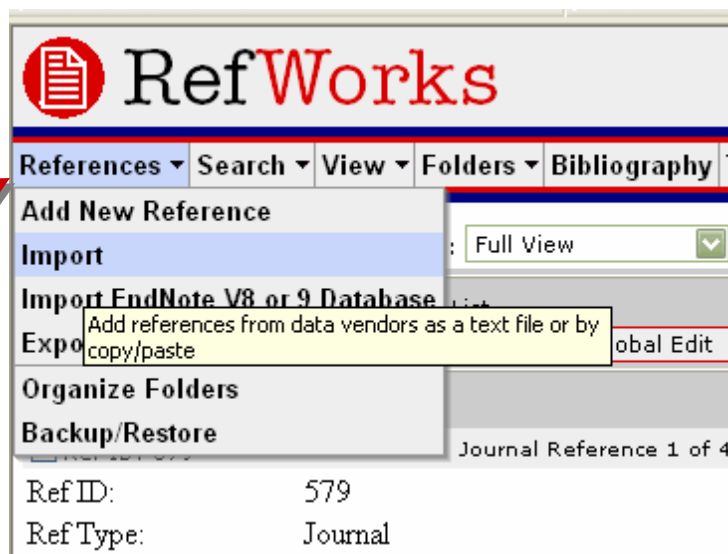

8. Using Write-N-Cite

- a. Open your word-processing application (Microsoft Word, etc.)
- b. Click on the Write-N-Cite button in the tool bar at the top of the page
- c. Log in to RefWorks
- d. Place your cursor where you want to place your first citation
- e. Click the blue Cite link to the left of the citation
 - i. Note* you may edit the citation by clicking on the blue Edit Citation link at the top of the Write-N-Cite box, after the citation has been inserted
- f. After you have added all of your citations, click the Bibliography button at the top of the Write-N-Cite box
- g. Select the Output Style (APA, Chicago, MLA, etc.) from the drop-down menu
- h. Click the Create Bibliography button at the bottom of the page
- i. The citations in your document will be formatted according to the output style and the reference list will be added to the bottom of the document
 - i. Note* a duplicate of the original document is created with "Final"-added to the new document's title.
- j. *See the create a bibliography walk-through (demonstration) at <http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html>

Getting Started with RefWorks

9. Alternate method to import book citations from the Library catalog – METHOD #2
 - a. Go to the Library Catalog (<http://webpac.library.unlv.edu/search-S1/>)
 - b. Type in your search terms and click the go button
 - c. Select titles by checking the box to the left of the title
 - d. Click the Save Marked Records button at the top of the page
 - e. Click the View Saved button at the top of the screen
 - f. Select the Local Disk option from the list
 - g. Click the Submit button
 - h. Select Save and select the appropriate drive on your computer
 - i. Log in to RefWorks
 - j. Roll your cursor over the References menu at the top of the page
 - k. Click on Import
 - l. Select the University of Nevada, Las Vegas from the Import Filter/Data Source drop-down menu
 - m. Select UNLV Library Catalog from the Database drop-down menu
 - n. Select the project folder from the Import References into drop-down menu
 - o. Click on the Browse button to locate your file under the Import Data from the following Text File section
 - p. Click the Import button
 - q. An asterisk (*) will appear for each citation that is successfully imported
 - r. Look in the last imported folder to view the imported citations
 - s. *See the import book references walk-through (demonstration) at <http://www.library.unlv.edu/help/refworks/index.html>

RefWorks Training - Guide to Saving Citations

This guide is a brief overview of the different importation methods used for a selection of databases.

Direct Import from an Online Database:

EBSCO Databases - Hospitality & Tourism Complete, Business Source Premier, EconLit

Science Direct
