Title: Graduate Student Workshop: Detect & Prevent Plagiarism

Date: Friday, March 9, 2012

Time: 9:00 to 10:00 am

Location: Lied Library, Pioche Room

Instructor: Kate Wintrol

Description: Graduate students often have dual roles as both students and teachers. This workshop will focus on tactics to deter and detect intentional and unintentional plagiarism in undergraduate students as well as devices to identify and confirm information sources. In addition, this session will cover the concepts of “common knowledge”, citing and paraphrasing, and provide examples of plagiarized student papers. Lead by Kate Wintrol, Assistant professor, Research & Education Division, University Libraries.

The workshop is intended for graduate students.
