

Teacher Development & Resources Library Strategic Framework July 2017 - June 2019

About the Framework

The primary role of the Teacher Development & Resources Library (TDRL) is to provide curriculum and research support to the UNLV College of Education (COE) in the area of P12 teacher education. The following strategic framework outlines the direction and future initiatives of the TDRL and does not include additional support of the UNLV COE by the Education Librarian and other University Libraries units.

Vision

University Libraries

The University Libraries will define the new academic research library - bringing people and information together in innovative ways. As UNLV emerges as a leading urban research institution, the Libraries will pioneer dynamic, user-friendly methods of reaching, connecting, and engaging learners.

Teacher Development & Resources Library

The Teacher Development & Resources Library will represent the future of curriculum material centers and become a leading P12 resource center for the Southern Nevada education community.

Mission

University Libraries

In support of the University's mission and shared values, the Libraries contribute to and support learners as they discover, access, and use information effectively for academic success, research, and life-long learning.

UNLV College of Education

The mission of the College of Education is to achieve prominence locally, nationally, and internationally as a leading source of significant knowledge and innovative models to inform and affect policy, practice, and research.

Teacher Development & Resources Library

The Teacher Development & Resources Library contributes to the success of the UNLV College of Education students, faculty, and staff as well as Las Vegas P12 educators by providing effective academic, scholarly, and professional research support and access to quality curriculum material collections.

Libraries Values Statement

The University Libraries is open to all people and affirms its commitment and dedication to diversity, inclusion, equity, and cultural awareness. We welcome everyone, including people of color, immigrants, adherents of all belief systems or religions and those that do not profess or practice a religion, people of all genders and sexual orientations, and all other members of marginalized communities or oppressed groups. We encourage discovery and learning in spaces where all people are respected and protected. Within our spaces, we seek to protect everyone from all forms of hostility and oppression, including sexism, misogyny, ableism, racism, classism, xenophobia, homophobia, transphobia, and religious persecution.

As a library, we defend intellectual freedom, oppose censorship, and uphold our commitment to the free and open exchange of ideas and viewpoints that is the very foundation of democracy and a part of our campus mission. We honor the voices and lived experiences of all members of our community. We see it as fundamental to the Libraries' mission to foster a sense of belonging and to provide welcoming and inclusive surroundings where all people are treated with respect and dignity.

- Providing access to resources, staff, and services
- Maintaining the currency of the Libraries websites and integrity of discovery tools
- Offering frontline and virtual service to users
- Providing expert research and information assistance
- Delivering course related instruction sessions
- Managing human and financial resources
- Maintaining clean, secure and inviting physical spaces.

Ongoing Goals of the TDRL

- Effectively market the TDRL's services, collections, and expertise to its broad constituency.
- Align initiatives to support the mission and goals of the University Libraries, the UNLV College of Education, and UNLV as a whole.
- Develop resources and programs that support educational programs within the College of Education.
- Continually enhance and integrate staff expertise in new, established educational technologies.
- Nurture relationships with stakeholders to foster library support (library administrators, COE faculty and staff, COE students and region educators).

UNLV's Top Tier Goal: Research, Scholarship and Creative Activity

University Libraries contributes throughout the research lifecycle, from identification of opportunity to dissemination of results.

UL Strategic Framework: "Strengthen investment in the Libraries' diverse and multi-format collections to enable the production of high quality, widely disseminated, and influential research, scholarship, and creative activities" (p.3).

- I. The TDRL will focus on updating and maintaining its collections to reflect the educational needs of diverse P12 populations and the curricula of the UNLV College of Education.
 - a. Assess the TDRL and Lied Library education print journals. Identify and relocate Lied materials that would be better suited for the TDRL collection and library user needs.
 - b. Audit the following collections and withdraw materials that do not align with the TDRL Collection Development Policy and recommended best practices for curriculum materials collections: Juvenile Fiction, Textbooks, "Big Books", CDs, DVDs, Kits, Picture Books, Early Readers, and Bilingual Books.
 - c. Update the TDRL textbook collection based on current CCSD materials and their application to the UNLV College of Education licensure programs.
 - d. Conduct an audit of the TDRL media collections. Evaluate DVDs for inclusion in Lied Education collections. Move all CDs to one collection to increase visibility of the collection.

- e. Conduct an analysis of the TDRL kit collection to identify gaps in the collection and popular material types. Identify and purchase for the collection new/replacement materials based on collection analysis.
- f. Audit the TDRL reference collection and withdraw materials that do not align with the TDRL Collection Development Policy and recommended best practices for curriculum materials. Relocate remaining items to appropriate TDRL or Lied collections.
- g. Create a board book collection to support early childhood education programs.
- h. Create a “Hi-lo” literature collection to expand TDRL materials applicable to adolescent literacy development.
- i. Create a P12 ESL/ELL collection to support ESL/ELL programs.
- j. Develop an annual weeding process to maintain the accuracy of TDRL collections.

Key Measure of Success: UNLV College of Education faculty and students judge the TDRL collections to be sufficient for their research/curricular needs in developing exceptional pre-service educators.

- II. The TDRL will provide UNLV College of Education faculty and students with ways to independently search and browse the unique TDRL collections according to their research needs.
 - a. Create and develop sustainable processes for staff created bibliographies on topics relevant to COE licensure programs.
 - b. Split the Juvenile Nonfiction collection records to accurately reflect the three distinct physical collections included in this category: Early Readers, Bilingual, and Juvenile Nonfiction.
 - c. Split the Juvenile Fiction collection by moving young adult titles to a new location. The new juvenile fiction and young adult collections are to be divided based on the grades covered in the elementary and secondary education licensure programs.
 - d. Develop and promote Primo search strategies/finding aids specifically for researching the TDRL children’s/YA collections.
 - e. Conduct a shift of the entire TDRL collection and include update to collection signage to increase independent browsing.

Key Measures of Success: UNLV College of Education faculty and students judge the TDRL collections to be easy to use/navigate. Finding aids are judged to be sufficient for their research/curricula needs.

UL Strategic Framework: “Provide integrated support of knowledge and scholarship production in the digital environment through provision of dedicated spaces, innovative tools and skilled assistance for researchers who are planning and implementing digital projects. - University Libraries Strategic Framework” (p.3).

- III. The TDRL staff will act as functional experts in the area of P12 education technology and provide quality services and assistance to library users on the educational technology available at the TDRL.
 - a. Develop a P12 app collection for library users to explore the use of tablet technology in P12 classrooms.

- b. In collaboration with the Knowledge Production Department, develop standardize processes and services around large format printing which enhance the library user experience.
- c. Develop a pilot program which provides library users opportunities to learn about and develop skills based on the educational technology available at the TDRL.

Key Measures of Success: Increase in use of technology equipment and spaces. UNLV College of Education faculty and students judge TDRL technology equipment and spaces to be sufficient for research and curricular needs. Learning opportunities are well attended and considered valuable to UNLV College of Education faculty and students.

UNLV's Top Tier Goal: Student Achievement

University Libraries collaborate broadly to ensure student achievement through direct instruction, partnering with faculty on assignment design and development of learning experiences outside the classroom.

UL Strategic Framework: "Create learning opportunities for faculty to partner with librarians on course and assignment design with specific focus on upper-division courses. - University Libraries Strategic Framework" (p.5).

- IV. The TDRL will actively seek out opportunities to partner with UNLV College of Education faculty on course/assignment design in the areas of children's and young adult literature.
 - a. Collaborate with UNLV College of Education faculty members to create assignments which teach information literacy skills within the context of P12 educator research and professional development. Focus on core children's/YA literature courses (e.g. EDRL 401- Children's Literature Elementary School Curriculum, CIL 501 - Children's Literature Elementary School Curriculum, CIL 680 - Contemporary Literature Children's and Young Adults).
 - b. Increase visibility of librarian/faculty partnerships by showcasing student work in both virtual and physical spaces.
 - c. Collaborate with UNLV College of Education faculty members to create meaningful and authentic learning opportunities in online children's/YA literature courses.

Key Measures of Success: Increase in UNLV College of Education faculty participation in assignment design. Faculty are satisfied with the assistance of embedded library partners in the development of their assignments and courses. Faculty are influenced by embedded library partners in the development of their assignments and courses. Faculty value the libraries as a teaching partner.

UL Strategic Framework: "Expand co-curricular programs to graduate and undergraduates in support of academic achievement, life skills, and lifelong learning. - University Libraries Strategic Framework" (p.5).

- V. The TDRL will develop an action plan for increasing co-curricular activities which focus on P12 education, children's and young adult literature, and community building.

Key Measure of Success: Assessments of pilot activities provide useful information for creating successful programs. Student success is impacted by the Libraries' co-curricular activities. Graduate and undergraduate students value co-curricular programs.

UNLV's Top Tier Goal: Academic Health Center

University Libraries will develop a next-generation Health Sciences Library incorporating state-of-the-art technology while remaining high-touch among students, faculty, practitioners and southern Nevada community.

The TDRL will offer assistance when needed but has no direct responsibilities in this area.

UNLV's Top Tier Goal: Community Partnerships

University Libraries fosters the intellectual, cultural, and economic development of the region with collections and services that advance knowledge and scholarship about the region, support regional business and industries, and prepare the region's K-12 students for UNLV.

UL Strategic Framework: "Continue programing with Clark County School District teachers and librarians to assist them in preparing K-12 students for academic success at a research university. - University Libraries Strategic Framework" (p.7).

- VI. In collaboration with Educational Initiatives, the TDRL will offer professional and academic development opportunities specifically designed for P12 educators and their students.
 - a. Develop standardized services, policies and procedures for library support of P12 students including research workshops and field trips to the University Libraries.
 - b. Research and create an action plan for professional development support for P12 educators.

Key Measures of Success: Clark County School District teachers and librarians judge engagement with the Libraries as valuable. Increase in P12 educators using TDRL services and collections. High school students find value in University Libraries' collection, staff, and services. High school students feel welcomed and accepted at the University Libraries.

UL Strategic Framework: "Create intellectual and cultural exhibits and events to educate and entertain the UNLV campus and the broader community" (p.7).

- VII. The TDRL will work with campus partners to create unique learning opportunities such as author visits, guest lectures, and themed events for the UNLV campus and Las Vegas community.

Key Measures of Success: Campus and community members express the value of the TDRL and University Libraries' programs and events in their own words.

UNLV's Top Tier Goal: Infrastructure and Shared Governance

University Libraries continue to enhance its robust infrastructure to support evolving methods of research, scholarship, and creative activities across UNLV's disciplines.

UL Strategic Framework: "Increase the frequency of communication with the campus and the external community to show the Libraries' value and impact" (p.8).

- VIII. The TDRL will create a sustainable marketing/promotion plan to increase communication with the UNLV College of Education as well as the University Libraries.

Key Measures of Success: UNLV College of Education faculty and administration, in addition to University Libraries personnel, feel knowledgeable of TDRL services and collections. UNLV College of Education faculty and students can articulate the value of the TDRL.

UL Strategic Framework: "Further develop a user centered culture of assessment throughout the Libraries that incorporate both data and outcome based measures" (p.8).

- IX. The TDRL will create a culture of informed decision making through the use of assessment best practices.
- a. Seek out training opportunities for TDRL staff to increase awareness of best practices in assessment.
 - b. Develop a TDRL department assessment plan that specifies the collection and use of data for ongoing operational decisions and identifies areas for unique assessment projects.
 - c. The TDRL staff will create an assessment plan to evaluate the current state of service desk research assistance and will identify ways to improve services. Includes efficient ways to refer patrons to appropriate librarians.

Key Measure of Success: TDRL personnel feels knowledgeable of a variety of assessment techniques. The TDRL assessment plan is seen by TDRL personnel as being sustainable and beneficial. UNLV College of Education faculty and students find drop-in research assistance at the TDRL to be sufficient for immediate research needs.
