Historical Background

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan political organization founded 1920 to watch over the activities of government and to affect public policy by reaching out to inform and advocate to citizens. Having no centralized structure, the League considers itself a grassroots organization, working at the national, state and local levels. There is a branch in each of the fifty states in the United States. The local Southern Nevada branch of the League of Women Voters of Las Vegas Valley (LWVLVV) was founded in 1964.

On April 29, 1964, two members of the Reno, Nevada League of Women Voters visited Las Vegas to help create a local League chapter. Interested women of the Las Vegas Valley attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. John Wright, President of the Faculty Wives Club of Nevada Southern University. The two Nevada League members, Mrs. Earl Nicholson and Mrs. Richard Miller, explained the purposes, policies, and programs of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Nicholson recommended that the interested women form a temporary committee. On May 1, 1964, Mrs. Geoffrey Stormson was appointed the temporary chairman and fifteen other women joined her in forming the new League chapter.

The first meeting took place on May 7 and a preliminary discussion was held concerning the bylaws of the Las Vegas Valley chapter. On May 16, 1964, Mrs. Robert Zurbach, a Board member of the League of Women Voters of the United States, held a meeting in Las Vegas and oriented new League members. It was decided that the League could not exist as a city League because of the proximity of North Las Vegas and the high population in the surrounding unincorporated areas. The focus of the new League would therefore be valley wide.

The temporary committee contacted five hundred women in the Las Vegas Valley and invited them to attend the May 25, 1964 organizational meeting. Forty-one women attended and twenty-eight paid their five dollars dues. Bylaws were created, officers elected, a budget adopted, and the program established at this meeting. The new Provisional League of Women Voters elected a Board of Directors with Mrs. Kathleen Richards as President. By November 1964 there were seventy-one members listed on the membership roll, including Margaret Quinn, the donor of portions of this collection. Other notable Las Vegas women on this earliest membership list included Flora Dungan and Jean Ford.

The League immediately became involved in political organizing and social interaction. In May, 1965, the League of Women Voters of the Las Vegas Valley (LWVLVV) attained formal recognition from the League of Women Voters of the United States. By 1969 there were approximately 200 members of the LWVLVV.

In its first three decades the LWVLVV concerned itself with social and political issues and played an important political role in Nevada. They held meetings, formed political pressure groups, and funded non-partisan studies of issues such as school integration, open housing, environmental conservation, and education. It continues to be a forum for non-partisan political research and lobbying.

Scope and Contents Note

The League of Women Voters of Las Vegas Valley (LWVLVV) Records contains the records and publications of the League from 1957 to 2010. Portions of the collection were donated by Margaret Quinn, who became a member of the League in 1964, was Director of Membership for the LWVLVV from 1979 to 1981, and President from 1981 to 1985.

The various series contain annual reports, League bylaws, membership lists, and treasurer's reports. The most extensive material in the collection are related to political issues including abortion, school integration, and environmental pollution. There are also political campaign questionnaires created by the League, publications, audiovisual information produced by the League, scrapbooks, and award plaques received from the community.

In the year 2000, regular additions of the LWVLVV newsletter were added to the collection. In 2017 two series were added. One mirrors and adds to much of the existing materials and the other is the Margaret Quinn's League of Women Voters records.
