Biographical Note

Dorothy Keeler (1900-1976) served as the Chief Deputy County Clerk in Clark County, Nevada in the 1930s. In this position, she issued many marriage licenses to Hollywood celebrities and others who came to Las Vegas to get married. Born Dorothy Alice Vandewerkern in Otego, New York, she married Charles Keeler in Reno, Nevada in 1927. The couple relocated to Las Vegas where Charles Keeler worked for Frank Garside at the Las Vegas Review-Journal. The Keelers later moved to Washington, D.C. Dorothy Keeler passed away on December 31, 1976.
Scope and Contents Note

The Dorothy Keeler Papers (1811-1977) document early Las Vegas history and the life and career of Eva Adams, director of the US Mint from 1961 through 1969. Keeler held the position of Chief Deputy Clerk in Clark County, Nevada and issued many marriage licenses. The collection contains materials about early Las Vegas celebrity weddings as well as general Las Vegas history. It also contains extensive clippings about Eva Adams, whom the Keelers knew Adams taught at Las Vegas High School in the 1930s. The collection also includes family correspondence and photos. A photo album documenting the Keelers’ extensive travels throughout the Western United States and the construction and dedication of Hoover Dam offers excellent images of automobile travel, the American West, and Southern Nevada in the 1930s.
