Historical Note

The treatment programs for pathological gamblers at the Charter Hospital in Las Vegas, Nevada were established by Dr. Robert Custer and co-designed by Dr. Rob Hunter in 1986. This program was the first in the state to help those with gambling addiction. The Charter Hospital was closed in 1998. In response, Dr. Hunter established an outpatient clinic known as the Problem Gambling Center (PGC) that is still in operation as of 2015.
