Biographical Note

Claudine Barbara Williams was born on March 17, 1921 in Mansfield, Louisiana. Her family later moved to Dallas, Texas, where at the age of fifteen she began working at a casino nightclub operated by Benny Binion. At the age of twenty-one, Williams bought a Houston steakhouse and casino, paid back the loan ahead of schedule, and used the profits to launch her business empire.

In the 1940s, Claudine met her future husband, Shelby Williams. They were married on February 19, 1950 and moved to Las Vegas, Nevada in 1964. They purchased the Silver Slipper Casino, which they operated until 1969, when they sold it to Howard Hughes. The couple took over the River Queen Casino 1973, renaming it the Holiday Casino. After Shelby's death in 1977, Claudine became the first woman casino president and general manager in Nevada gaming history. In 1983, the Holiday Inn Corporation acquired full ownership of the casino and hotel, as well as its subsidiary, Harrah's. Harrah's Entertainment, no longer a subsidiary of Holiday Inn, took over the property in 1992.

Claudine, along with several others, created the American Bank of Commerce. She became the first woman in Nevada history to chair a bank's board of directors. She also served on several government, business, and charity boards throughout her lifetime. In 1989, she helped establish a scholarship fund in her husband's name at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) College of Hotel Administration. She also personally donated funds to UNLV for a dormitory construction project. To honor Claudine, UNLV named the residence hall after her, and in 1994, UNLV bestowed an honorary doctoral degree upon her. Claudine Williams passed away on May 13, 2009 in Las Vegas, Nevada.
