Historical Background

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Collection (1951-1977) contains publicity books, scrapbooks, community service records, newspaper clippings, correspondence, photographs, and newsletters pertaining primarily to the Fred S. Pennington post no. 1753 Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Las Vegas, Nevada and the associated local chapter of the American War Mothers organization.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars formed in 1914 as a way to support veterans and their families. The organization has volunteered at Veterans Affairs (VA) Medical Centers, hospitals, and nursing and veterans' homes. In addition, the organization contributes to youth activities, cancer research, civic patriotism, and other areas of community development. In 2015, the organization extended membership to eligible men and changed its name to the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Auxiliary.

The American War Mothers formed in 1917, with membership limited to mothers whose children served in the Armed Forces between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918. Later, due to U.S. involvement in both World War II and the Korean Conflict, the organization amended its charter to include the mothers of those who served in WWII and Korea, as well as any future wars.
