Scope and Contents Note

The Evan "Ding" Renglehoff Collection of Punchboards (1930s-1940s) is comprised of forty-two assorted punchboards with identifying documentation. These punchboards are gambling devices that were popular in the United States during the mid-twentieth century. The customer would pay, usually five cents, to possibly win a prize. These punchboards were sponsored by various companies and organizations as a way to raise revenue.
