Historical Note

The Archaeo-Nevada Society (ANS) was incorporated in the State of Nevada as a nonprofit organization in 1966. It is a local group of individuals interested in various aspects of archaeology such as history, prehistory and historic preservation. The purpose of the ANS is to preserve Nevada's antiquities, encourage the study of archaeology, and to educate the public on the aims of archaeological research.

Membership is made up primarily of those who participate in archaeological activities for personal enjoyment and who want to share their interests with other like-minded persons. ANS officers and members also write letters and attend meetings related to the protection of cultural resources in Southern Nevada. "Archaeo-Nevada is an affiliate of the Nevada Archaeological Association and the Society for American Archaeology. The Archaeo-Nevada Society is committed to attracting and maintaining a diverse membership that is reflective of our community and state. We strive for an organization that includes all the members of our community without regard to race, religion, color or national origin. Having a diverse membership allows us to benefit from the variety of perspectives and strengths of the world around us."

ANS has established a scholarship fund to benefit local students who are declared archaeology/anthropology majors.
